Welcome to Part 3 of a 3 part eWorkshop on Creativity & Making Jewelry.

Part 1 was a creativity booster (an activity created to give you inspiration and get your creative juices flowing). If you missed it, find it here:

Part 2 is jewelry skills lessons. If you missed it, find it here:

Part 3 (this!) will have a jewelry making project. For the video, click here:

Using the Creativity Booster (Part 1) to inspire your jewelry piece:

In the video at <http://KimberlieKohler.com/part3> I show you how to make a bracelet step-by-step. You'll use the skills you learned in Part 2 to make the bracelet and your observations from Part 1 to inspire the bracelet.

But before you do, I would like for you to think back to the Creativity Booster for this workshop. Remember when you looked around your home and picked out colors, textures, shapes and moods? Use what you found out to choose the materials you'll use for this project.

My house is mainly black and white with some color thrown in. My clothes are the same way. I used black and white beads with a big turquoise bead in the middle.

How can the inspiration you find around your home inspire your jewelry?

Again, think about:

- Colors you use over and over again,
- Shapes that show up,
- Your style,
- Mood,
- Textures,
- Any symbolism that shows up,
- Anything else that comes up.

I didn't do a step-by-step photographic tutorial for this, but in my full Rediscover Your Creativity & Make Jewelry eCourse there are PDF eBooks for every single jewelry project in the eCourse. And it's open for registration now for the July round! Learn more here: <http://kimberliekohler.com/shop/ecourses/rediscover-your-creativity-through-making-jewelry-ecourse/>

Rediscover Your Creativity & Make Jewelry eCourse

The eCourse is set up similarly to this free eWorkshop with weekly creativity boosters, jewelry lessons and jewelry projects. The creativity boosters are deeper and there are a lot more jewelry making skills lessons and projects each week!

About your teacher:

I'm Kimberlie Burkhardt Kohler and I'm your teacher! (You can call me Kim!)

I have been making jewelry since I was a kid. I started my own business officially selling my jewelry in 2005 and have been teaching others in person and online since 2012. I believe in creativity and that there's more than one way to do things. I truly want my students to learn from me and then come up with their own unique, creative jewelry pieces.
